Still in the denial phase..Mr..Jeffrey.Lee Robinson came into my life per a Prayer request from me to God...15 years ago. in 2004. I will forever thank God for letting him cross my path. My faith will remain only!!! For knowing him and his mother. They both brought me back to BELIEVE at a.very.low time... I had lost faith. I asked for somebody who could understand my grief then and.my.loneliness. Jeffrey did that. Jeffrey was not perfect. Who is? He did have a big heart, a more than loving spirit, and i will grieve this loss for a long time. I loved and cared for Jeffrey immensely. My heart is so broken... His place was in Detroit. He got to meet.know.and be loved by.his two adorable grandbabies. He was so good.n kind to the children. And they loved him right back.....He got to reconnect with his family there. Jeffrey had a kind, a loving ❤️!! And he will be missed and remembered for that by a whole lotta people. He made friends easily because he loved people..My most sincere condolences to the whole family..RIP Jeffrey.Ill be missing you for a very long time..❤️❤️❤️. Tell me why the road turns.. Condolences to you all!!

My name is Travina Taylor my husband Craig aka Git and Boo!! We're from nyc but resides in N.C. I was introduced to jeff from my husband family so he became my family. Jeff was a fun loving guy. We always had laughter and good times with him. Jeff n my husband did karaoke at times my husband thought he could sing barry white ectasy so good until Jeff started singing along. His deep voice carried. He uplifted our wedding with this singing i didn't know he was there until they went around with mic for quest to speak and he sung that song and we lit up everyone !! It was amazing and with that last memory for us we are forever thankful to share moments in his journey of life. You will be missed forever loved R.I.P. Jeff 🙏❤️
