I meet Carole twenty years ago and she later became my daughter's grandmother. Through everything she was a beautiful person to deal with and will be truly missed. Thank you for teaching me the recipe to your pound cake.

Cynthia Scott lit a candle in honor of CAROLE.

I met Carole (Cookie) over thirty years ago through her cousin Ronnie. She coordinated annual trips to Las Vegas and I went on several. That family welcomed new comers into their fold and I eventually met and married her nephew Chris. I never referred to her as Auntie Cookie because she was more like a second mother-in-law. She made the best cheese cakes, not the cool whip-refrigerated cheesecake. She made the oven baked cheesecake, and she taught me how to make them. I never felt like an outsider in her home, and I counted it an honor when she asked for my assistance no matter the situation. I will love and miss forever. Cynthia Scott

Carole was my Mom's twin where I get my middle name. I remember spending summers at her home. Going on trips to Canada. My aunt took great care of me. See was a wealth of family knowledge. She will be greatly missed. Now no more sickness or pain. Just enjoying the lord and the heavenly choir. I love you Aunt Cookie.

I will truly miss Ms. Carol as well as her twin sister Ms. Kathy they were two of a kind with beautiful personality. I live in the same apartment residents with them and had a lot of fun talking with both everyday as well as eating breakfast with them. Lisa you and the family are in our prayers. I will miss them tremendously. RIP Carol with your twin sister Kathy.

I met Lisa (Carol's niece) in high school. When Lisa would spend the summer with her aunt, she would invite me over for sleepovers. We had such a great time and auntie Cookie was so cool. Auntie Cookie never bit her tongue. She would tell it like it is. We had so much fun and auntie Cookie treated me like a nice too. When her twin sister (Lisa's mom) came into town I would come to visit years after. Auntie Cookie and Lisa's mom died 6 days apart. Rest In Peace auntie Cookie. ❤️
