David has been my friend since the early 1980s. He was doing photography for a gospel concert that I attended with a friend. He started flirting with me while he was taking pictures. We exchanged numbers and went out a couple of times. It wasn't a love match for us but it was friendship for life. Much later he became good friends with my husband. I will miss him. Rest peacefully my friend.

Living in the same household, we were more than second cousins. We were brothers. He was a success in anything that he endeavored. And will sorely missed.
