Tulani....I met you when we were teenagers. My very first impression of you was "I hope she's as beautiful inside as she is outside". And that you were. Your smile lit up a room. You were such a wonderful person to be around. I thank GOD for allowing us to not only cross paths but to experience so many joys of growth...I have so many memories of You, Veronica and I living and laughing about boys and life. There's so much I could say yet it only saddens me to know you're no longer here . I know GOD has his Devine angel back and with that knowledge I can only be at peace. As I write this, I can clearly see your smile. I'll always love you and will miss you immensely! Until me meet again. Much LOVE FRIEND 😊

Tulani Brown was my very first childhood friend we were so close growing up everyone thought we were cousins. When our parents would be at work we would sneak out and have the day or night on the town....We both had our children at a late age, they are like months apart from each other. After growing older and wiser we grow apart but always remain friends. You were the only one I had to talk with about raising children at our age. I am crushed your not here I will miss you dearly and I will pray for your son and family.
