I went to the cvs store on joy rd and beech daly. Still the friendly man at the cash register was still missing. I haven't seen him in few month. As I was about to check out, I finally asked: "Where is the friendly man with the loud voice". That's when I received the sad news. I was told his name is Mr carter. He used to lift my spirits every time I was greeted by him. I am very sad and heart broken by his lost. I will miss his great customer service and jokes. Now he can make the angels laugh in heaven

I went today to get my script refilled, I was not greeted with the jovial greeting...I looked around , thinking " this must be his off day." I go to the pharmacy to get my script..there is a picture of my dear, positive friend, we ALL called "Carter" the paper said he was deceased, how could this be true? the man of so much life, when I came in CVS with so much stress, depress, & down. He ALWAYS brought happiness & life. I am so hurt, & in disbelief that the SUN of CVS is gone. A very respectful & decent human being is gone...I will believe GOD needed more ANGELS to help HIM in these trying times. May the Almighty Father cover,carry,&covet his wife & family that he talked about often. R.I.H Carter...We will truly miss you & that hefty & heartfelt greeting!!!

"Uncle Carter," in which I've often referred to and/or addressed you as. True, you weren't my blood uncle, relatively speaking, but my uncle by the Blood. Our very extremely frequent encounters, kept me focused on my God-given purpose on this earth. In the midst of the darkest season of my life, you were great illumination. While making my frequent trip to continue our years long conversation regarding being light in the midst of this dark world, and light to each other, I find out about your sudden transition home into glory. Our last convo, the first week of August to be exact, after briefly discussing those in prominent positions of influence within the Body, which stemmed from a convo between you and your wife, after the two of you observed via media, thus leading to convo regarding those people being wolves in sheep's clothing and their true hidden intentions regarding their prominent positions in ministry, I stated, "Uncle Carter," we were placed here, in the midst of others, to serve them by being living epistles of hope and love; God is very pleased with you." In response, you stated, "Keep the light of the good Lord shining and His legacy going. I'm an old man now and no longer a spring chicken anymore. Even the soup I made yesterday was too spicy to handle, and I gotta pace myself and can't cut as many lawns as I used to. But until the Good Lord calls me home, Imma continue to serve him. I can coach you from the corner, as you travel to serve others with the gifts God has given you. Continue to fight front line for the people, even when they can't fight for themselves. Now gimme three-dollars and three pennies." As I smiled, I stated, "I have no choice, but no one works harder than Uncle Carter. If I had your hands, I'd cut mine's off. And as you always tell me, I'm going to keep doing the Lord's work. Always a pleasure to see you lol!!!!" "Come on back and visit us again," you would always say, as I would exit the establishment. Who would've known this would be our last interaction in the natural? The next second isn't promised, but maximize the current second granted, to put a smile on the face of others. You already know I'm going to keep your legacy going. Please let God know I need more angelic backup to fill the big shoes you walked in lol. Love you Uncle Carter!!!

Besides the location Carter was the only reason I stopped at this CVS. We loved and admired Carter for how he cared for each of us and touched our lives.
